DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 04/04/2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Lee et al. disclose a liquid crystal display module and an assembly method thereof where in Claim 10 it is disclose a mold frame comprising a lamp assembly receiving portion, an inverter supporting bar for supporting an inverter and in Claim 21 it is disclosed that a rear case has a bottom surface corresponding to the lamp assembly the gate PCB, the source PCB and the inverter. Lee et al. fail to disclose specifically that the inverter is electrically connected to the lamp/light and the bottom surface placement of the bracket/bar. However, Sasaki discloses that a metal fitting electrically connects the fluorescent tube to the inverter unit. Furthermore, Min discloses a flat-panel display apparatus where in claims 10 and 18, bracket/bar is placed on the bottom surface of the case/housing.

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 8-12, 14-17 and 19-41 allowed
2. Claims 3-6 objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1 and 2 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lee et al. (6,587,166) in view of Sasaki (JP 11086623) further in view of Min (6,024,335).

Regarding Claims 1 and 2, Lee et al. disclose a liquid crystal display module and an assembly method thereof where in Claim 10 it is disclose a mold frame comprising a lamp assembly receiving portion, an inverter supporting bar for supporting an inverter and in Claim 21 it is disclosed that a rear case has a bottom surface corresponding to the lamp assembly the gate PCB, the source PCB and the inverter. Lee et al. fail to disclose specifically that the inverter is electrically connected to the lamp/light and the bottom surface placement of the bracket/bar. However, Sasaki discloses that a metal fitting electrically connects the fluorescent tube to the inverter unit. Furthermore, Min discloses a flat-panel display apparatus where in claims 10 and 18, bracket/bar is placed on the bottom surface of the case/housing.

It would have been obvious to one of having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to include the required inverter/lamp assembly and the bracket/bar placement in the required location in Lee et al. as taught by Sasaki and Min respectively, in order to have a liquid crystal display device with better functionality.

Conclusion

1. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).
